

The Women's 400 Meters

by Lillian Morrison

Skittish, they flex knees, drum heels and shiver at the starting line waiting the gun to pour them over the stretch like a breaking wave.

Bang! they're off
careening down the lanes, each chased by her own bright tiger.